

The Greeneville Sun, September 30, 2010

Business Section – Business Editor, Douglas Watson

SUN PHOTO BY PHIL GENTRY

Shown above, from left, are Innovative Fabrication Service's managers Rodney and Janet Banks, and owners, Johnnie and Josh Malone. The dog, Rambo, belongs to Johnnie Malone.

Innovative Fabrication Service Set To Open In Industrial Park

Innovative Fabrication Service has announced it soon will be opening a plant in the Mt. Pleasant Industrial Park at 360 T. Elmer Cox Drive.

The building includes approximately 39,000 square-feet, including offices and a sandblast building.

Innovative Fabrication Service specializes in custom metal fabrication work, which includes welding, shearing, rolling and bending of carbon steel, stainless steel and aluminum.

"We are qualified to fabricate pollution control equipment (dust collectors and baghouses), conveyor systems, wastewater treatment equipment, duct systems, tanks, and structural steel, as well as miscellaneous jobs," a press release said.

"Our company will do jobs of any size, large or small, per our customers' specifications. Job estimates are provided per our customers' drawings and/or by field measurement," the news release continued.

Innovative Fabrication Service said it "has a very qualified staff with over 35 years combined experience that is capable of detailing and preparing drawings for production per the customer's specifications. Our employees are highly skilled welders and fabricators."

Innovative Fabrication Service is owned by Johnnie and Josh Malone and managed by Rodney and Janet Banks.

Johnnie and Josh Malone also own Innovative Millwright Service in Greeneville, which is a general construction/millwright company that has been in business since May 2006.